

35th OSAC Annual Briefing

Alison Bouwmeester

Former CIA Intelligence Officer and author of “Mission: Career Transition”

Alison Pentz Bouwmeester, completed a 28-year career as an Operations Officer, Chief of Station and senior leader in the Central Intelligence Agency’s Directorate of Operations, with frequent geographic moves and job transitions worldwide.

Following her retirement from the CIA, Alison spent nearly a decade as a senior corporate business executive, first at TASC and at Agilex Technologies, where she rose to the level of Vice President for Business Development, and later at Accenture Federal Services where she supported corporate efforts in the Intelligence sector.

In 2018, leveraging 35 years of government and private sector experience, Alison became a Certified Professional Career Coach, and founded Futurity, LLC to coach others through successful job searches, career advancement, and career transitions. Alison is the author of Mission: Career Transition - A Career Change Guide for Intelligence, Military, Foreign Affairs, National Security and Other Government Professionals.

Alison is a member of the Board of Advisors of the International Spy Museum and an Expert for the Cipher Brief.